1. The Italian firm Aeromar, 102 Via Panama, Rome, has allegedly sold to the Jefatura de Transmisiones del Ejercito (Communications Headquarters of the Army), Avenida Jose Antonio, Barcelona, 120,000 meters of telephone cable valued at 13,000,000 lire.
2. The telephone cable was acquired in England, and was to arrive in Genoa from Malta aboard the Italian ship ROMA. The transaction was conducted through the import-export firm Tecnica S.A., located at 4 Guzman el Bueno, Madrid, with the opening of a regular credit account.
3. Aeromar has also sold the Spanish Air Force approximately 3,000 kilograms of spare parts for airplane motors valued at 77,000,000 lire, and negotiations are in process for 9,000 additional kilograms of the same.
4. Aeromar is reportedly negotiating with Egypt, Pakistan, Israel, and Spain concerning the following material which Aeromar has available:
 - a. 1 marine diesel motor, 500 HP, valued at 7,340,000 lire;
 - b. 96 gasoline marine motors, valued at 295,000,000 lire;
 - c. 2 Navy speed launches, located in England, valued at 60,000,000 lire; and
 - d. 1 excursion (ferry?) boat, located in England, valued at 200,000,000 lire.
5. Carlo Pezzani, retired Air Force Colonel, who resides at 102 Via Panama, Rome, is reportedly representative and consultant for Aeromar, and agent for the Comital Firm of Zurich, dealers in war surplus material.
